University of Pittsburgh

GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL BULLETIN
2000 • 2003
USING THIS BULLETIN

Students who are interested in or accepted to any of the University of Pittsburgh’s graduate or professional programs other than those leading to the first-professional degrees offered by the University (MD, JD, LLM, PharmD, or DMD) will find useful most of the sections of this bulletin. Descriptions of the University, its regulations, and its services are included in the sections prior to the program-specific information in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of the bulletin.

Students interested in first-professional programs (MD, JD, LLM, PharmD, or DMD) can ignore much of the bulletin prior to the First-Professional Programs section, but should familiarize themselves with the general information on the University, as well as the section on Campus Facilities & Student Services, and the University-wide policies detailed in Rights and Responsibilities. The Schools of Medicine, Law, Dental Medicine, and Pharmacy appear in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section for programs leading to the graduate and professional advanced degrees as well as in the First-Professional Programs section since these schools offer both types of programs. Faculty are listed by their department or program at the end of the school.

Students should note that the listings of requirements and procedures for admissions, registration, and other information listed in the sections prior to the more program-specific information provided in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin represent the minimum requirements and basic procedures. Students should consult the information on their specific school, program, and department for detail on additional or stricter requirements and procedures.

TABLE OF CONTENTS xiii
The University of Pittsburgh is an internationally respected center of learning and research, offering exceptional educational opportunities in the humanities, sciences, and professions. The University's mission is to advance teaching, research, and public service. This tripartite commitment enables the University to serve others by:

- educating diverse students from the region, the nation, and the world;
- expanding the boundaries of knowledge, discovery, and technology; and
- enhancing quality of life in the western Pennsylvania region and beyond.

HISTORY

The University began in the Pennsylvania wilderness as the Pittsburgh Academy in 1787, the year the U.S. Constitution was adopted. Thirty-two years later, the Pittsburgh Academy became the Western University of Pittsburgh, and in 1908, the school changed its name to the University of Pittsburgh.

The recognition of graduate study at the University of Pittsburgh began with the awarding of Master of Arts degrees in 1836. By 1870, over 30 MA degrees had been awarded. These degrees were conferred for study beyond the Bachelor of Arts degree. In 1884, Chancellor Milton Goff set up a two-year professional study program leading to either a Master of Philosophy (predecessor of the Master of Science degree) or a Master of Arts degree and a three-year program leading to a Doctor of Philosophy degree. Before admission to these programs, each student was required to show proficiency in three areas of study. Both master's and doctoral candidates were required to prepare and defend theses.

In 1906, new rules were formulated for graduate study, requiring students to be in residence and requiring the completion of one year of study or 30 credits for the master's degree and three years or 90 credits for the doctoral degree. The catalogues of 1908 and 1909 announced the establishment of the Graduate School with five departments offering courses for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. These departments, plus five others, offered courses for the Master of Arts degree.

In 1910, a faculty committee drafted proposals, adopted by the board of trustees in 1913, making the Graduate School an independent administrative unit of the University and authorizing the selection of a Graduate Council. The Graduate School was grouped into three divisions (Humanities, Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences) in 1947. Until 1956, the administration of graduate study was the responsibility of the dean of the Graduate School and the Graduate Council. At that time, the individual schools and the three divisions were given direct administrative responsibility for their graduate programs in accord with the regulations established by the University Council on Graduate Study—formerly the Graduate Council. In 1968, the dean of the Graduate School retired from his administrative role, and the position he had held was discontinued. General responsibility for the University's graduate programs was assigned to the provost pending reorganization of the University's graduate structure. The University Council on Graduate Study, the University administration, and members of the Graduate Faculty cooperated in drafting a proposed reorganization of graduate study, which was approved by written ballot by the entire Graduate Faculty and, in turn, accepted by Chancellor Wesley Posvar. This organizational structure became effective July 1, 1971 and is still the official structure.

Thus, during the 200-plus year history of the University, graduate education has grown to encompass the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and all 13 of the professional schools, which share a commitment to meet the nation's need for well-educated researchers, scholars, and leaders of professions and the tri-state region's need for trained professionals.

A private institution for most of its past, the University of Pittsburgh became state-related in 1966, establishing a relationship with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that continues to benefit both partners. Today, as an elected member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the University of Pittsburgh claims its place among the top public research universities in the nation.

ACCREDITATION

The University of Pittsburgh, including its four regional campuses, is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Higher Education. In addition, schools, programs, and departments may be accredited by discipline-specific accrediting bodies. See Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin for this information.

ACADEMIC ORGANIZATION AND PITTSBURGH CAMPUS OVERVIEW

An independent, state-related, coeducational institution, the University of Pittsburgh's Pittsburgh campus offers a multitude of degree-granting and other programs housed in 16 undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools. The University system includes the Pittsburgh campus and four regional campuses at Bradford, Greensburg, Johnstown, and Titusville; the regional campuses offer undergraduate programs only.

More than 90 buildings are located on the Pittsburgh campus, which covers 132 acres in the culturally rich Oakland neighborhood. At the heart of the campus stands a central landmark—the Cathedral of Learning, a 42-story Gothic tower, which is the tallest school building in the western hemisphere. The Cathedral contains the remarkable Nationality Rooms: 26 classrooms, each of them designed to reflect a distinct culture.

On the Pittsburgh campus, over 3,400 faculty serve 25,900 students, including 9,100 graduate and 16,800 undergraduate students. Alumni accomplishments range from managing Fortune 500 corporations, to writing best-selling novels, to unlocking the secrets of DNA...and more.

The University of Pittsburgh remains a place of enduring tradition and vitality, true to the work ethic of western Pennsylvania, rich in intellectual rigor, and committed to preparing students for their lives and careers.

ORGANIZATION OF GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION AT THE UNIVERSITY

While the University Council on Graduate Study (http://www.pitt.edu/~graduate/ucgs.html), acting for the Graduate Faculty, develops minimum standards for graduate work throughout the University, the immediate responsibility for developing and administering graduate programs is assigned to the deans and Graduate Faculty members of the several schools and the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. This responsibility applies both to the traditional MA, MS, and PhD programs and to programs leading to advanced professional degrees, except for first-professional degrees (i.e., the MD, JD, LLM, PharmD, and DMD). The provost has responsibility for the general supervision of graduate and professional programs, including first-professional degree programs, throughout the University, giving leadership to the deans and faculties in maintaining high standards of instruction and research.

Faculty are appointed to the Graduate Faculty by the provost upon recommendation by the dean on the basis of an appraisal by the faculty of a department or other appropriate faculty group. Graduate Faculty are competent in graduate instruction and in supervision of student research at all levels and are active in advancing knowledge through their own research.
APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

Graduate admissions to the University of Pittsburgh are handled by the particular graduate school or program; there is no central admissions office for graduate and professional schools at the University.

This section details only the University requirements and procedures for admission to the University. The Graduate Admissions Office of each school provides admissions information for prospective students to that school. Schools’ admissions requirements are listed under the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin.

The admissions information in this section is subject to change at any time. It is intended to serve only as a general source of information.

GRADUATE ADMISSIONS

Decisions regarding admission are based on an overall evaluation of all the credentials submitted by the candidate and in accord with the availability of faculty, facilities, and student support necessary to meet the applicant’s expressed academic and research needs and interests. Many departments or programs have a limited number of places available. Interested students should refer to the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin in addition to the general admission information provided here.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Students seeking admission should call or write for application forms and descriptive materials to the school or program of intended graduate study. In many cases, application materials are available online; prospective students are encouraged to check the Web site of their programs of interest. See Schools, Departments, and Programs sections of this bulletin for contact information.

Students should then return to the department or school the completed application forms and a check (not cash) for the application fee payable to the University of Pittsburgh. Generally, students applying online have the option of paying application fees online via credit card or by sending a check. The application fee is required of all applicants and is non-refundable; it does not apply toward the payment of tuition. The fee varies from school to school, so prospective students should refer to the information on the relevant school in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin for the specific application fee required or go to that school’s or department’s Web site.

Applicants must also request that the registrars of all undergraduate and any graduate schools attended send official transcripts of their records to the department or school of intended graduate study. In addition, many schools and departments require additional material. These materials may include any or all of the following: scores achieved on standardized examinations such as the Graduate Record Examination or the Graduate Management Admission Test, letters of recommendation, term papers written during previous study, evidence of work/life experience, evidence of motivation for graduate study, and a statement of career objectives. Applicants should arrange for a personal interview if requested by the department or school.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

See the Schools, Departments, and Programs sections of this bulletin for specific application deadlines, but note that students applying for fellowships and assistantships should file their applications at the earliest possible date. Applicants interested only in admission may be considered up to the deadline dates, but postponing applications may entail the risk that available spaces will be filled. Some programs admit students only for a particular term, so prospective students are encouraged to check with the school and program for specific admissions information.

GRADUATE ADMISSIONS OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Students from other countries should start the application process for admission nine to 12 months in advance of the date of intended enrollment and complete the process no less than three months before the registration date for the student’s first term. Some schools may require even earlier applications. Applicants wanting to be considered for financial assistance must submit completed applications much earlier. Requests for application forms should be directed to the school in which the student wishes to enroll. All applicants should also take note of specific school and program requirements, such as the Graduate Record Examination (GRE scores). Specific requirements are listed in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT APPLICATION DEADLINES AND APPLICATION FEE

International students should contact the individual department or program to which they are applying to determine the required application deadlines for submitting a completed application, financial aid form, and application fee. Many programs have their application materials online via their Web sites. In general, international students should submit applications no less than three months before the term in which they want to begin taking classes. The deadlines and fees vary according to the school and program to which the student is applying. The fee must be submitted in the form of a check or money order made payable to the University of Pittsburgh. See the individual school’s international application information in the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin for details or go to the school’s or department’s Web site.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ACADEMIC BACKGROUND AND CREDENTIALS

The minimum requirement for admission to a graduate program is the completion of a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution in the United States or the completion of a level of education that the University of Pittsburgh deems comparable to a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited U.S. institution.

Applicants are required to submit official original academic credentials. Official original academic credentials that are issued in a language other than English must be accompanied by a certified English translation. In addition, in cases where the grade reports, academic record, examination results, or transcript does not attest to the awarding of a degree or other academic qualification, a certified copy of the original certificate or diploma awarding the degree or qualification must be submitted. Certificates or diplomas that are
ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENTS
Graduate students must possess sufficient proficiency in English to enable them to understand lectures, participate successfully in class discussion, and, in general, to be able to study without being hindered by language problems. To facilitate determination of proficiency, official results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) are required if the applicant’s native language is not English; this applies even if English has been the medium of instruction. A minimum score of 550 or higher on the TOEFL is required for admission to graduate study (or a TOEFL score of 213 on the computer-based test).

All students with a TOEFL score less than 650 (or 280 on the computer-based test) may be required by the department, program, or school to take the Michigan Test of English Proficiency upon arrival. Based on the test results, students may be required by their academic department to take courses in English as a foreign language before registering for graduate courses or may be required to take one or two such English courses in addition to graduate courses.

Any student scoring over 650 on the paper-based test (or 280 on the computer-based test) is exempted from further testing. The requirement to submit the results of the TOEFL may be waived if the applicant has recently received a satisfactory score on other tests of English language proficiency or has recently earned a degree from a regionally accredited institution in the United States.

The Educational Testing Service administers the TOEFL test at testing centers throughout the world. Students may take the test either in a traditional paper format or on a computer. Further information, testing dates, and test applications are available directly from the Test of English as a Foreign Language, Box 6151, Princeton, New Jersey, 08541, USA or by contacting a U.S. Consulate, an office of the U.S. Information Agency, an office of the U.S. Educational Commission, or a binational center. Information about the TOEFL is also available on the World Wide Web at http://www.toefl.org/. Applicants seeking September enrollment must take the TOEFL no later than the preceding March.

International students who are non-native speakers of English can contact the English Language Institute (ELI) on the University of Pittsburgh campus for assistance in meeting English proficiency requirements and taking the TOEFL. See the Campus Facilities & Student Services section of this bulletin, page 9, for more information on the ELI.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE FLUENCY FOR TEACHING ASSISTANTS/ FELLOWS
Teaching assistants (TAs) and teaching fellows (TFs) who are non-native speakers of English must be evaluated through a test designed to assess spoken English and English comprehension, approved by the Office of the Provost and administered by the English Language Institute (ELI). The Office of the Provost in consultation with ELI will establish minimum scores acceptable to permit a TA/TF to teach. Individual academic centers or departments may require higher scores than the established University minimums. All TAs/TFs with unsatisfactory scores on this test will be given non-teaching assignments and are required to take special course work until they attain a passing score. An unsatisfactory score at the time of reappointment is sufficient cause for nonrenewal of the student’s TA/TF appointment. See relevant school section in Schools, Departments, and Programs for more details.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT AND VISA DOCUMENTS
While admission decisions are not based on financial support information, all applicants who are not U.S. citizens or Permanent Residents must submit a Financial Support Statement with their applications, even if applying for financial aid from the department. An award may not cover the entire cost of studies.

The Office of International Services cannot issue the document needed to apply for a student visa to enter the United States or to transfer non-immigrant status to the University of Pittsburgh until evidence of financial support adequate to cover the entire program of study has been submitted. Therefore, submission of a Financial Support Statement with an application will facilitate the issuance of a visa document.

ADDITIONAL INTERNATIONAL STUDENT REQUIREMENTS
The University of Pittsburgh reserves the right, even after arrival and enrollment, to make individual curricular adjustments whenever particular deficiencies or needs of a student are identified. In such instances, students may be required to take, at their own expense and without receiving credit, courses in English as a foreign language (see English Language Proficiency Requirements above) or courses prerequisite to their course of study to make up deficiencies.

It is strongly recommended that students arrive in Pittsburgh at least two weeks before the start of the term to allow sufficient time to make housing arrangements and take part in the orientation program conducted by the Office of International Services. In addition, the advising section of the Office of International Services, located in 708 William Pitt Union, offers assistance on a wide range of matters of concern to students from other countries. Call (412) 624-7120 or see http://www.pitt.edu/~osasweb/ois/oisinfo.html for more information.

ADMISSIONS STATUS
Admission may be granted or denied only by the dean of the school or his or her designee. However, non-immigrant students may be denied visa documents for non-academic reasons by the Office of International Services. Acceptable students are admitted to graduate study in a specific department or school with “full,” “provisional,” or “special” graduate status depending on their qualifications and objectives. The qualifications described below represent the minimum standards of the University. These may be made more stringent or specific at the option of the department or school.

FULL GRADUATE STATUS
For admission to full graduate status, an applicant must be a graduate of an accredited U.S. college or university and must be considered qualified for advanced study by the department or school. This normally is demonstrated by a B average (a quality point average of 3.00 on a 4.00 scale) or better in the total undergraduate program. (Note: the Faculty of Arts and Sciences requires a B average in the major field of study, and some of that school’s departments require higher levels of achievement.) If students with less than a B average present alternative evidence (such as completion of an advanced degree or successful relevant work experience) of superior ability, they may be considered for full graduate status on the recommendation of the department of proposed graduate study. Only students with full graduate status may take the PhD preliminary evaluation, take the MA/MS or PhD comprehensive examination, be considered for the award of an advanced degree or certificate, or be graduated.

PROVISIONAL GRADUATE STATUS

Applicants who are graduates of a recognized college or university but who do not qualify for admission to full graduate status because of deficiencies in either their undergraduate program or their scholastic achievement may be considered for provisional graduate status if strong supporting evidence of their ability to complete a graduate program is provided. Courses taken to remove deficiencies do not contribute toward completion of graduate degree requirements. Transfer from provisional to full graduate status is initiated and recommended by the department and is possible only after removal of deficiencies and other conditions noted at the time of admission and satisfactory progress in graduate work.

A student on provisional or special status or on probation is not eligible to take the PhD preliminary evaluation, to take the MA/MS or PhD comprehensive examination, or to be graduated.

SPECIAL STATUS

Students may be granted temporary admission as “special status” under the following circumstances:

1. Students who are seeking advanced degrees but who are unable to meet the deadline for filing all required credentials for admission may be granted temporary admission provided they present acceptable evidence concerning their qualifications for graduate study. Regular admission must be accomplished within the first term of registration.

2. Students who are not seeking an advanced degree but who have specific qualifications for one or more courses, including courses required for learning or certification, may register for such courses subject to review by the department and the dean of the school. Schools providing such an opportunity may specify the number of credits or courses for which a student may enroll while in this status and should also clearly specify the limitations on transfer of such credits toward a graduate degree if the student is subsequently admitted to a graduate degree program.

See Schools, Departments, and Programs section for specific requirements connected to special status students.

GUARANTEES AND EARLY ADMISSION TO GRADUATE AND FIRST-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Undergraduate students receiving an academic merit scholarship who indicate certain professional programs (including communication science, dental medicine, education, law, medicine, physical therapy, and public and international affairs) as their intended field of study on the Freshman Application to the University of Pittsburgh will be automatically reviewed for guaranteed admission into that professional program. Early application is recommended, as spaces are limited.

Exceptionally able undergraduate University of Pittsburgh students may be admitted to full graduate status if their graduate and undergraduate schools have approved early admission as a permitted option and have established standards and procedures, and if the student needs no more than 24 credits to complete the baccalaureate degree. Credits earned while enrolled in the graduate program may also be counted toward fulfilling undergraduate degree requirements. See Schools, Departments, and Programs section for further information on the possibility of early admission to specific programs.

TUITION DEPOSIT

Once a student is admitted to a program, some of the graduate and professional schools at the University of Pittsburgh require a tuition deposit of $100 to $500 to secure the student's place in the incoming class. Students should refer to Financial Issues: Tuition, Fees, Loans, & Scholarships, page 6, or to the admissions information for their specific school to determine the amount required for the tuition deposit.

DEFERRED ADMISSION

If a department or school so approves, a student may defer admission for one year without having to complete any additional applications. If approved, the student is sent a new admission letter. Approval of a student’s request to defer admission does not necessarily mean that any financial aid awarded is also deferred. See Aid Deferrals, page 8, for more information on deferring financial aid.

READMISSION

A student who has not registered for at least one credit or full-time dissertation study during a 12-month period will be transferred automatically to inactive status and must file an application for readmission to graduate study (and pay the application fee) before being permitted to register again. Inactive students cannot apply to graduate, nor take preliminary or comprehensive exams. Readmission is not automatic nor does it necessarily reinstate the student to the academic status enjoyed prior to becoming inactive. When readmitted, the student must be prepared to demonstrate proper preparation to meet all current admission and degree requirements. Readmission is automatic, however, for students who receive prior approval for a formal leave of absence.

CHANGING THE FIELD OF GRADUATE STUDY

A student already admitted to graduate study and desiring to change a major department of graduate study must file an application for such a change in the office of the dean or the department of the school the student wishes to enter. The application for admission to the new department will be evaluated in the same manner as an application from a new student.

FULL TUITION

Graduate students enrolled for nine to 15 credits during the Fall and Spring Terms are considered full-time and pay a flat tuition rate. Students enrolled for one to eight credits are considered part-time and pay for individual credits. Students enrolled in the Summer Term also pay for individual credits, regardless of how many credits are taken (The Katz Graduate School of Business is an exception: full-time MBA students pay a flat rate in the Summer Term). See Deferred Payments and Payment Adjustments sections below for information regarding tuition payment plans.

Tuition rates are school specific. Students pursuing two degrees or a degree and a certificate simultaneously must list one as the primary academic program and may list the other as a secondary academic program on the registration form; students are billed at the tuition rate of the primary academic program. Please refer to the tuition rate for the school in which you are enrolled. The University’s tuition chart is online at http://www.ba.pitt.edu/irweb/tuition/tuithmpg.htm.

RESIDENCY/REDUCED TUITION

Students who reside in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may be eligible for reduced tuition through state appropriations (see Eligibility for Reduced Tuition below). Eligibility is determined by criteria outlined in the University of Pittsburgh Guidelines for Determining Eligibility for Reduced Tuition Rates, available online at http://www.bc.pitt.edu/sfs/paycenter.htm#TF.

ELIGIBILITY FOR REDUCED TUITION

Assessment of full tuition or reduced tuition is based on whether the student is a permanent resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Full tuition is charged to non-residents. A student who has lived in Pennsylvania for a continuous period of 12 months before enrollment in any institution of higher education in the state may be eligible for reduced tuition. The student must be a citizen of the United States or have an immigrant or permanent visa. For a student less than 21 years of age, both the student and parent(s) or legal guardian(s) must meet the residency requirements for eligibility.

FINANCIAL OBLIGATION OF STUDENTS

The University of Pittsburgh has the right to withhold services if a student defaults on any financial obligation until repayment arrangements have been made that are satisfactory to the office or department to which the debt is owed.

FEES

MANDATORY FEES

The following are mandatory fees assessed to students each term (current rates are available online at http://www.ba.pitt.edu/irweb/tuition/tuithmpg.htm):

- Student Activity Fee
- Student Health Fee
- Computer and Network Service Fee
- Security, Safety, and Transportation Fee

SPECIAL SERVICE FEES

These fees may be charged for University transactions that are processed beyond deadlines, due dates, and specified time limits.

COURSE FEES

Certain courses have fees associated with enrollment in the course. These courses are identified in the Schedule of Classes and Course Descriptions. The Schedule of Classes is online at http://www.pitt.edu/~srfsweb/crinPgCrsInfo.htm.

PROGRAM FEES

Certain graduate and first-professional programs have fees associated with enrollment in the program. These are typically fees for equipment or required insurance. See the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin for more information.
FINANCIAL AID

Financial assistance for graduate students can be provided in the form of teaching and research appointments, fellowships, traineeships, tuition scholarships, and loans. The type of aid available depends on the school or program to which the student is admitted; students are encouraged to contact their school directly for more information about the types of financial assistance available. Admission to graduate study does not necessarily carry any implications concerning the award of financial aid.

TEACHING AND RESEARCH APPOINTMENTS

Students may receive financial support as teachers or researchers in their respective programs. In these positions, students are either teaching assistants (TAs), teaching fellows (TFs), graduate student assistants (GSAs), or graduate student researchers (GSRs). These appointments are generally for two terms at a time; guidelines covering these appointments and their current salary ranges are available through links from the University’s Graduate Studies Web page at http://www.pitt.edu/~graduate/. In recognition of academic merit, the University offers TA/TF/GSA/GSR scholarships including tuition, fees (excluding the student activity fee), and individual medical insurance coverage. TAs/TFs/GSAs and GSRs can also purchase family medical coverage (for spouse and/or dependent children) by paying the difference between the premium costs for the individual option and the family option.

The University’s policy concerning Teaching Assistants and Teaching Fellows, dealing with appointments, reappointments, terminations, benefits, and responsibilities, is contained in the University TA/TF/GSA Policy Statement, sent to all new Teaching Assistants. The University’s policy concerning Graduate Student Researchers is contained in the University GSR Policy Statement, sent to all new GSRs. The Teaching Assistant/Teaching Fellow/Graduate Student Assistant Policy Statement can also be found on page 28 of this bulletin under Rights and Responsibilities, and the University Graduate Student Researcher Policy Statement can be found on page 27.

Students receiving these academic appointments must follow the relevant University policies as they apply to faculty and staff of the University of Pittsburgh; see Rights and Responsibilities section of this bulletin for details. For more information on what teaching and research positions may be available in a given program, see the relevant information in Schools, Departments, and Programs.

TEACHING ASSISTANTS (TA)

Teaching Assistants (TAs) are graduate students who have not qualified for an appointment as a teaching fellow. The duties of a TA might include teaching recitation sections, monitoring quizzes, assisting in laboratory instruction, or participating in related activities involving undergraduate programs. Full appointments usually require approximately 20 assigned hours per week.

TEACHING FELLOWS (TF)

Teaching Fellows (TFs) are graduate students more educationally advanced or experienced than a TA, typically holding the equivalent of a master’s degree. The salaries for TFs are slightly higher than those for TAs. Full appointments usually require approximately 20 assigned hours per week.

GRADUATE STUDENT ASSISTANT (GSA)

Graduate Student Assistants (GSAs) are graduate students who perform duties to assist in the educational or research mission of the University, but do not teach classes, recitations, or labs. GSAs might assist a faculty member in library research, editorial duties, or similar academic tasks. Full appointments usually require approximately 20 assigned hours per week.

GRADUATE STUDENT RESEARCHER (GSR)

Research grants funded by government and private agencies provide a variety of full- and part-time research positions for graduate students. Most, but not all, of the GSR positions, which are also referred to as Graduate Research Assistants, are in projects that are directly related to the thesis or dissertation research of the student; all provide the student with valuable research training and experience.

FELLOWSHIPS AND TRAINEESHIPS

There are a variety of fellowships and traineeships available from the University of Pittsburgh and many other organizations that provide funding to students needing financial assistance and/or showing evidence of academic excellence. These awards may include a stipend, a tuition scholarship, health care coverage, or all three. Among the fellowships available from the University to students across a broad range of disciplines are the following:

PROVOST’S DEVELOPMENT FUND

This program is intended to provide financial support and development opportunities for women and disadvantaged students pursuing the doctorate or professional degree that would qualify them for an academic or administrative appointment. Financial assistance will be made available on the basis of need and merit. Any U.S. citizen or permanent resident who is enrolled in or admitted to a graduate program at the University is eligible. Ideally, the candidate would be in the advanced stages of the PhD program so that support for one year would complete the program. Applications are available from the Office of the Provost, 801 Cathedral of Learning, or online at http://www.pitt.edu/~cedeno/pdffapp99.html.

OWENS FELLOWSHIPS

A bequest of Samuel T. Owens Jr. makes fellowships available at the University of Pittsburgh for needy students who show promise of high academic achievement. These fellowships carry an annual stipend of $2,000. The fellowships may be used in payment of tuition, books, and living expenses during the academic year for which the award is granted. Owens Fellowships are not available for a single term. Application forms are available in the University Office of Admissions and Financial Aid, Masonic Temple, Pittsburgh, PA 15260, (412) 624-7488. The deadline for application is usually in April.

For more information on specific fellowships and traineeships available to students in a particular program, see the Schools, Departments, and Programs section of this bulletin.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships from the University of Pittsburgh are a form of merit- and need-based financial aid. Outside scholarships are also applied toward tuition and other mandatory educational expenses. Scholarships do not have to be repaid.
STAFFORD LOANS

Stafford Loans are long-term, low interest rate loan programs available to degree-seeking students enrolled on at least a half-time basis. The amount of the loan is dependent upon financial need, but for a graduate student it could be as high as $18,500 per academic year. While there is no deadline for applying, Stafford Loans can take as many as 60-90 days to be approved; therefore, students who intend to start graduate school in the Fall Term should start the loan process no later than May 15.

Financial aid application procedures are outlined in the University of Pittsburgh’s Financial Aid Booklet and online at http://www.pitt.edu/~oaf. Information on Stafford Loans is available online at http://www.finaid.org/loans/studentloan.phtml, the University’s Graduate Admissions and Financial Aid site (http://www.pitt.edu/~graduate/admissions.html) includes links to loan information for graduate students.

LIFETIME LEARNING TAX CREDITS

Taxpayers are eligible to claim a non-refundable Lifetime Learning Credit against their federal income taxes for the qualified tuition and related expenses of students who are enrolled in eligible educational institutions. Through 2002, the amount that may be claimed as a credit is equal to 20 percent of the taxpayer’s first $5,000 of out-of-pocket qualified tuition and related expenses for all the students in the family. After 2002, the credit amount is equal to 20 percent of the taxpayer’s first $10,000 of out-of-pocket qualified tuition and related expenses. Qualified tuition and related expenses for graduate-level education are eligible for the Lifetime Learning Credit.

For more information on Lifetime Learning Credits, see http://www.ed.gov/init/hope/tax_qa/sec2.html.

DEFERRED TUITION PAYMENT PLAN

Students in good financial standing with the University and registered during the Fall, Spring, or Summer Terms for three or more credits are eligible to participate in a deferred tuition payment plan to pay current term charges in three installments. First-time participants in the plan must make these arrangements in person at the Student Payment Center. Thereafter, participants may elect a mail option.

There is a $20 fee each time a student sets up a payment plan, and an interest charge of 1% monthly on the unpaid principal is added to the remaining two installment payments. For more information on the deferred tuition payment plan, please contact the Student Payment Center via E-mail at payment@sfs.pitt.edu or online http://www.bc.pitt.edu/sfs/paycenter.htm.

PAYMENT

University statements may be paid by cash, check, or credit card; however, cash cannot be mailed or dropped into the Student Payment Center’s depository. The University accepts Discover, MasterCard, and Visa credit card payments in person, by mail, or telephone. The Student Payment Center is located in room G-7 of Thackeray Hall. The mailing address is P.O. Box 371998, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7998, and the phone number is (412) 624-7550.

Due dates are clearly designated on billing statements and are always the 17th of the month. Failure to pay the amount due (or to arrange a deferred tuition payment plan by the due date) will result in a late payment fee for students without a valid deferral.

If students who have a tuition scholarship (for example, via a TA/TF/GSR/GSA appointment) receive a tuition statement indicating that their tuition has not been paid, they should immediately contact the school or department administering the scholarship for assistance in correcting the error.

CHECK AND CREDIT CARD ADJUSTMENTS

As appropriate, payment made by check may be refunded to students. Adjustments to credit cards are made to the payer’s credit card account and will be reflected on the Discover, MasterCard, or Visa monthly statement.

AID DEFERRALS

Once students have applied for and been notified of financial aid eligibility, they may defer payments by obtaining a Financial Aid Deferral form in the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid and then submitting the form to the Student Payment Center. Whether a deferral of aid is allowed is dependent upon the type of aid awarded.

ACADEMIC RESOURCES

The University of Pittsburgh has a wide variety of academic resources that provide the infrastructure to aid students with their research and computing needs.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY SYSTEM

271 Hillman Library

The University Library System (ULS) of the University of Pittsburgh is represented by 14 libraries located on the Pittsburgh campus, the Allegheny Observatory Library, the Archives Service Center, and a storage facility at UPARC in Harmarville. The ULS is a member of the Association of Research Libraries (ARL), the Oakland Library Consortium (OLC), and Pennsylvania Academic Library Connection, Inc. (PALCI). Through membership in several Pennsylvania consortia of libraries, cooperative borrowing arrangements have been developed with other Pennsylvania institutions.

Other University of Pittsburgh libraries include the Barco Law Library and the Health Sciences Library System (see below for detail), both located in Pittsburgh, as well as the four regional campus libraries—Bradford, Greensburg, Johnstown, and Titusville.

The University of Pittsburgh libraries and collections provide an abundant amount of information and services to the faculty, students, staff, administrators, and researchers of the University. In fiscal year 1999, the University’s collections totaled nearly four million volumes, nearly four million pieces of microforms, and 26,000 subscriptions (these subscriptions include more than 24,000 print subscriptions and nearly 2,000 electronic journals). Also, through the Graduate and Professional Student Association (GPSA), interlibrary loan grants of up to $25 a year are available to all graduate and professional students at the University to help offset the increasing costs of interlibrary loans between University of Pittsburgh libraries and those on other campuses. (See http://www.pitt.edu/~gpsa2/)

Under the administration of the University Librarian, the University Library System (ULS) includes the following libraries and collections:

- Hillman (main), which houses:

The Hillman Library is the largest library facility with seating for 1,530 users. It offers an open stack arrangement and an extensive range of library services. In addition to the main collection, which is comprised primarily of humanities and social sciences subject areas, the Hillman Library is comprised of seven other libraries and collections, maps, national, and international newspapers, and microform facilities.

PITTCAT is the University of Pittsburgh’s online library catalog, offering author, title, subject, and keyword access to materials in all University libraries. PITTCAT currently contains bibliographic holdings and circulation information for more than three million titles, representing most of the book and periodical collections in all University libraries. In addition, the University libraries provide access to many remote resources for University of Pittsburgh faculty, students, and staff, including Digital Dissertations, EBSCOhost, InfoTrac, CIS Compass, MUSE, JSTOR, Science Direct, Web of Science, netLibrary, and numerous other electronic journals. PITTCAT and the other databases are available through the ULS Web site at http://www.library.pitt.edu.

BARCO LAW LIBRARY

The Barco Law Library, occupying three floors of the five-story Law School Building, is available to anyone needing to use its resources for legal research purposes. Likewise, the Government Document collection is available for use by the public at large. Call (412) 648-1323 for more information or see the library’s Web site at http://www.law.pitt.edu/library.

HEALTH SCIENCES LIBRARY SYSTEM

The Health Sciences Library System (HSLS) at the University of Pittsburgh is comprised of three distinct libraries that support the educational, research, patient care, and service activities of the schools of the health sciences (Medicine, Dental Medicine, Pharmacy, Health and Rehabilitation Sciences, Nursing, Public Health) and the UPMC Health System. This library system includes the Falk Library, the Nursing Collection in the Learning Resources Center of the School of Nursing, and the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic (WPIC) Library.

Falk Library of the Health Sciences serves as the flagship of the HSLS. It is located on the second floor of Seidell Hall. The library houses more than 300,000 print volumes and receives approximately 2,000 journal subscriptions. The Falk Library collection also includes a special History of Medicine collection. In addition to the library’s print collection, the Computer and Media Center (CMC) includes videotapes, audiotapes, more than 100 public computers, and over 300 microcomputer software packages.

WPIC Library is one of the world’s most comprehensive resources in psychiatry and the behavioral sciences, with approximately 70,000 books, 420 journals, and 600 audio tapes. The WPIC Library collection also includes 550 videotapes held at the Benedum Audiovisual Center. The Nursing Library is located on the second floor of Victoria Hall and includes about 10,000 books and 150 journal titles.

HSL Online, a digital clinical library, offers access through the World Wide Web to current biomedical databases, full-text journals, major full-text clinical and subspecialty textbooks, clinical practice guidelines, and current drug and toxicology information. HSL Online includes the following databases and information services: MEDLINE, AIDSLine, CancerLit, Bioethicsline, HealthStar, CINAHL, PsyClINFO, Evidence-Based Medical Reviews, Micromedex, MDConsult, STAT!Ref, Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine, Lippincott's Primary Care Online, and Scientific American Medicine Online.

NETWORK AUTHORIZATION ACCOUNTS

All enrolled students are eligible for a network authorization account (NAA). The NAA will permit a student to establish a user ID and a password to provide access to the University’s network resources, a Mulberry E-mail account, the Internet/WWW, the University Library System’s PITT CAT system, and a printing allowance at the campus computing labs. All students who wish to use the University computing resources, including the ability to access their schedules and grades online or to shop at the e-Store, must have a network authorization account. Accounts are issued at any of the campus computing labs. Password re-set and other account modifications must be made between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at the Accounts Office at the 230 David Lawrence Hall lab. PLACEMENT SERVICE
Graduate and professional students should consult with their faculty mentors as well as departmental, program, or school placement services as their primary source for guidelines on career development specific to their discipline. As a secondary resource, the University Placement and Career Services, though mainly designed to assist undergraduates, has a variety of services that may be of use to graduate and professional students.

Placement and Career Services is designed to work with students at each step of the Pitt Pathway, a developmental model for career planning and implementation. Specific services that assist students in implementing their plan and beginning their job search include an on-campus recruiting program, a resume referral service, current job postings posted on the Web site and on job boards, and use of an alumni volunteer database entitled AlumNet. Placement and Career Services helps students establish contact with employers in the fields of business, government, health care, education, industry, and private research. A credential service maintains letters of recommendation files that are sent at the request of the student to prospective employers and graduate schools. PCS also maintains a part-time/summer job database for students interested in temporary or part-time work on and off campus. after their time at the University. These skills include the ability to communicate both orally and in writing, to learn and teach, to obtain and keep a job, to manage stress and time, and to behave responsibly.
Graduate and professional programs often do not provide comprehensive training in all of these areas; the Survival Skills & Ethics Program encourages the development of mechanisms for assisting graduate and professional students in developing these skills.

For more information on workshops and other services provided by the program, call (412) 624-7098, visit 4K57 Posvar Hall, or see http://

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

FIRST-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS
The essential mission of the University of Pittsburgh School of Law is to help lawyers and legal institutions to meet the demands of a rapidly changing legal and professional environment. The school performs this mission through three critical functions:

1. The school prepares talented students to meet the challenges of demanding legal careers—whether as advocates, counselors, planners, or policy makers—and to meet the leadership responsibilities lawyers are called upon to perform in their personal and professional lives. The School of Law’s central focus in this effort is the preparation of students for the first-professional degree in law.

2. The School of Law is a center of legal scholarship whose members work to enlarge society’s understanding of law and its underlying policies, legal institutions, and legal processes.

3. The school provides expertise, support, and service to governmental units at all levels; to local and national organizations engaged in law reform and policy analysis; to the legal profession; and to the people of Western Pennsylvania, both through the work of its graduates and through efforts to foster improvements in all aspects of the justice system.

In serving its students, the school is committed to an active and inclusive spirit of community and to the effective, efficient, and congenial provision of service. In teaching, research, and public service, the School of Law aspires to conduct all of its programs at a nationally prominent level of quality that adds luster to the legal and business communities of Pittsburgh; that makes the school relevant to the key needs of this region’s private, public, and nonprofit sectors; and that distinguishes it as one of the finest public urban law schools in the United States.

Among its first-professional degrees, the School of Law offers the Juris Doctor (JD) degree; a number of joint degree programs with other schools of the University, leading to both a JD and a second master’s degree; and an LLM degree for foreign Law graduates.

ADMISSIONS

Admission to the school’s JD program is open to qualified graduates of accredited colleges and universities. Because the study and practice of law draws upon many disciplines, the School of Law does not prescribe any particular pre-legal study. Required application materials include:

- Completed application and personal statement
- Registration with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS)
- Results of the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT)
- Final, official undergraduate transcript
- Non-refundable application fee of $50
- Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) if applicant’s native tongue is not English
- Letters of recommendation are not required but strongly encouraged

All application materials must be completed and received by the Admissions Office by March 1 (postmark date) of the year in which the applicant wishes to begin his or her legal studies. The School of Law employs a rolling admissions policy and recommends early application. The application may be accessed on the school’s Web site: http://www.law.pitt.edu.

ADMISSION: TRANSFER AND VISITING STUDENTS

Students in good standing at law schools that are members of the American Association of Law Schools (AALS) and on the approved list of the American Bar Association (ABA) may apply for admission as transfer students. Students having completed two years at an accredited law school may enroll as a visiting student for their last year of law school. Required application materials include:

- Completed application and personal statement
- Renewed registration with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS)
- A letter from the dean of the applicant’s previous law school stating that the applicant is in good standing, eligible to return, and, in the case of visiting students, that the applicant’s third year will be counted toward a degree from the previous law school.
- Certified transcript of all work completed at the previous law school
- Final, official undergraduate transcript
- Non-refundable application fee of $50
- Three letters of recommendation are strongly encouraged, but not required

FLEX-TIME PROGRAM

The School of Law offers a flex-time program for students whose outside obligations necessitate a program with fewer hours each semester. Course loads are designed to result in graduation in four years rather than the normal three years with no fewer than 10 credits per semester. Courses are offered only during the day. Students in the flex-time program pay full tuition. All requirements for the JD program must be completed within six years of matriculation. Application materials are the same as for full-time students and must include a letter stating the reason for requesting flex-time.
FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Two separate units within the University handle loans and scholarships. The School of Law is responsible for the awarding of both merit and need-based scholarships while the University’s Office of Admission and Financial Aid certifies federal and private loans. To apply for law school scholarships, students must complete the financial aid form located in the application materials or on the school’s Web site. To apply for student loans, the following forms must be filed:

1. Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) (The Title IV code for the School of Law is 008815)
2. Financial Aid Application Supplement (FAAS)
3. Signed copies of the preceding year’s federal tax returns
4. Loan application(s)

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

A student must attain a quality point average (QPA) of at least C (2.00) for all the work in the first year of law school to advance to the second year. Failure to attain this independent yearly average for the first year will result in an automatic exclusion from the School of Law. A student must attain a cumulative QPA of at least C (2.00) at the end of the second year in order to advance to the third year. Failure to attain this average will result in automatic exclusion from the school. A student who attains a cumulative average of C or better at the end of the second year, but less than a C average for the work of the second year, is automatically placed upon academic probation during the third year. A student must attain a cumulative average of at least C (2.00) at the end of the third year in order to graduate from the school. Failure to attain the cumulative average will result in an automatic exclusion from the school. A student who attains a cumulative average of C or better at the end of the third year, but less than a C average for the work of the third year, is automatically placed upon academic probation. In order to be eligible to graduate, the student on probation must satisfy all conditions imposed by the Faculty Committee on Petitions and Academic Standards.

Consistent with the residency requirements imposed by the American Bar Association, students may graduate in three years of study only if they complete six semesters in residence. To receive a semester’s residence credit, a student must successfully complete a minimum of ten credits of course work.

A student must graduate within six years of the date upon which he or she matriculates.

Regular and punctual class attendance is necessary to satisfy residence and credit requirements. Regular attendance is defined as attendance and preparation at not less than 80% of the classes held in each course or seminar. If a student fails to meet these attendance and preparation requirements, a faculty member may certify the student out of the course and assign a grade of U (unsatisfactory) or F (fail).

The School of Law Policy on Written Work for Credit, its Standards of Academic Integrity, the Grading Guidelines, and other academic policies of the School are included in the Standards section of the School of Law’s Student Handbook.

ADVISING AND PLACEMENT

The School of Law’s Career Planning and Placement Office provides educational programming, individual counseling, and print and electronic resources to aid students and graduates of the School of Law in making career choices, developing job search skills, identifying job opportunities, and securing meaningful employment.

The Office serves as a clearinghouse for information on summer, part-time, and permanent work with law firms, corporations, accounting firms, government agencies, public interest organizations, judges, and other employers. Job notices and fellowship opportunities are communicated to students and alumni on the placement page of the School of Law’s Web site and via newsletters, bulletin boards, E-mail messages, and binders. On-campus interviews are conducted throughout the fall semester for second- and third-year students with approximately eighty employers participating. The School of Law also hosts interview days in Philadelphia and Washington, D.C. during the fall term. Many local employers interview first-, second-, and third-year students on-campus during the spring term as well. The office also facilitates student participation in a variety of minority, public interest, and subject-specific job fairs around the country.

Staff members review cover letters, resumes, thank you notes, and acceptance letters; they conduct mock videotaped interviews and maintain an active mentor program. Educational programming is offered throughout the academic year. Local practitioners join with staff to present information on such subjects as interviewing skills, business etiquette and dress, networking, succeeding as a summer associate, orientation to on-campus interviewing, judicial clerkships, non-traditional careers, and a wide range of legal practice areas. In addition, the office assists student organizations in identifying speakers for their programs.

The office communicates with prospective employers regularly in order to ensure ever-increasing attention to the School of Law’s students and graduates. Through personal visits, advertising, dissemination of promotional materials, and mailings, the staff seeks to highlight the many accomplishments of alumni and students. In addition, the staff maintains visibility in the legal community through active membership in local and state bar associations.

The Career Planning and Placement Office is located in Room 200 of the Law Building and is open year round, Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 5:00 p.m. Staff includes:

- Christine E. Miller, Esq., Assistant Dean for Career Services, (412) 648-1408, cmiller@law.pitt.edu

• The upper-level writing requirement
• Legal Research and Writing, Constitutional Law
• A course in Legal Profession

The upper-level writing requirement is described in the Graduation Requirements section of the Student Handbook.

JOINT DEGREE OPTIONS

In addition to the JD, the School of Law offers several joint degree options with various schools within the University as well as in conjunction with Carnegie Mellon University. Students who want to enroll in any joint degree program must first be admitted to the School of Law and the cooperating school. This can be done before matriculation in either program or after the completion of part of either program. The only requirement is that the first year in the School of Law be taken here in its entirety, with no outside courses. (Most students in the program will begin law school and then enter a joint master’s degree program.) Students are required to fulfill the degree requirements of both schools as modified by participation in the joint-degree program. Substantial advanced-standing credit is given by each school for the degree to be awarded by the other. Both degrees must be completed concurrently. The joint degrees currently offered are:

LLM PROGRAM FOR FOREIGN LAW GRADUATES
The LLM Program for Foreign Law Graduates provides practicing lawyers who have obtained their law degree outside the United States with an opportunity to study common law in a United States context. Because interaction with U.S. lawyers is integral to understanding U.S. law, the program allows students to study the U.S. legal system and institutions along with American students who are enrolled in the JD program.

ADMISSION TO LLM PROGRAM FOR FOREIGN LAW GRADUATES
Applicants are admitted to the LLM Program for Foreign Law Graduates based on their ability to thrive in a demanding, competitive academic atmosphere, as evidenced by their academic record and professional accomplishments. The program is open to any lawyer with a law degree from a non-U.S. law school who can demonstrate proficiency in English as measured by a minimum score approaching 600 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Required application materials include:

• Completed LLM application for admission
• Original or certified copies of all original language academic transcripts from all post-secondary institutions attended, plus translated copies in English if the original transcripts were issued in a language other than English

- Transcripts from any other university the applicant attended
- Professional and educational goals statement
- Information for obtaining a visa document (see Graduate Admissions of International Students section in this bulletin for further information)
- Financial Support Statement
- Application fee of $40
- Official results of the TOEFL
- Three recommendations

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Limited financial assistance has been available in previous years for LLM students as a result of foundation grants. Several outstanding LLM students have been awarded scholarships ranging from $3,000 to full tuition.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

An LLM student must attain a cumulative average of at least C (2.00) in 24 credit hours to be graduated. LLM students also must attend not less than 80% of the classes held in each course. Students are obligated to exhibit honesty and to respect the ethical standards of the legal profession in carrying out their academic assignments. LLM students are bound by the same general academic policies as students in the Juris Doctor program (see Academic Standards as described under the JD program above). The School of Law Policy on Written Work for Credit, its Standards of Academic Integrity, the Grading Guidelines, and other academic policies of the school are included in the Standards section of the School of Law’s Student Handbook.

ADVISING AND PLACEMENT

The Director for the Center for International Legal Education serves as academic advisor to each LLM student. It is assumed that students will return to their home countries for employment upon graduation.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The LLM course of study requires a total of 24 credit hours to be completed in two semesters. LLM students must graduate with a minimum of 2.00 QPA. Required courses are:
- Introduction to American Law
- U.S. Legal Analysis, Research, and Writing
- LLM Colloquium
- A faculty supervised writing requirement.

SPECIAL ACADEMIC OPPORTUNITIES/PROGRAMS: THE CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL LEGAL EDUCATION

The Center for International Legal Education offers a vast array of curricular and co-curricular offerings. There are over 20 courses that focus on international law, three moot court competitions, numerous foreign study opportunities, and area studies certificates that allow students to focus their studies in a particular geographic region.

The Languages for Lawyers Program is unique among American law schools. Others have begun to copy aspects of it, but none yet appears to match the breadth or depth of this program. As a part of the regular JD curriculum, students learn languages by focusing on legal terminology and events. The current curriculum includes beginning and advanced courses (two credits each) in each of Chinese, French, German, Japanese, and Spanish for Lawyers. These courses are taught by persons who are native speakers of the language and trained in the law.

The second component of the Languages for Lawyers Program began in the summer of 1998 with the first English for Lawyers course. This is a three-week course designed both to increase English language fluency and prepare foreign students for the rigors of study in an American LLM program.

The Program on Law and Global Philanthropy works closely with other parts of the University to study policy issues related to the legal framework in which non-profit, philanthropic organizations operate across borders, and the effect of non-profit organizations on the development of law, both domestic and international. Opportunities for students exist in the program’s research and other activities.
